PENNSYLVANIAN IS MODERATOR

Presbyterians at Assembly

Elect Leader

Other Candidate is Named

by Pasadena

Coolidge Will Speak Sunday

to Gathering

(RECEIVED DISPATCH)

DES MOINES, May 18.—The 13th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, which began today at the afternoon session elected the Rev.

Dr. Calvin C. Hays, pastor of the

First Presbyterian Church, Johnstown, Pa., as moderator. On the first ballot was taken. The only other candidate nominated was

Prof. Cleland R. McAffe of McConnick Theological Seminary, Chicago. Dr. Hays received 112 votes and Dr. McAffe 279 votes.

Two of the commissioners who had been elected as candidates for the moderatorship, Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of the University of Ohio, and Dr. John Laird, pastor of the Frankford-avenue

Church, Philadelphia, nominated Dr. Hays. Dr. Raymond M. Huston, Brooklyn, and Dr. Robert

Freeman, Pasadena, nominated

Dr. McAffe.

It was urged in behalf of Dr. Hays that the East was collected in the position, as the last five moderators had been from the West and South. An appeal also was made to have a moderator a representative of a big country town.

WILLIAM KNOX QUINN

(RECEIVED DISPATCH)

CHICAGO, May 18.—If it hadn't been for a Naperville cigar, Willie Dalton might have got away with the $773,000 in Liberty bonds

which he took from the Northern

Trust Company over a year ago.

How the 37-year-old bank employee was made ill by the cigar, which he had smoked during his escape, was not known when Willie took the stand in his own defense today.

During the questioning by his counsel, he related his movements

during his flight from the moment

show that his act was not premeditated.

"You say you smoked a cigar

in Naperville?"

"Yes," he answered.

"Do you often smoke cigars?"

"Yes," he answered.

When asked what he was laughing at, he said, "I was laughing

at the thought of the money."

Then he went on to tell how he had taken the bonds from the company "on the spur of the moment."

"The idea of taking the bonds

flashed in my mind only an hour before I took them," he said.

"But why did you buy the grip that was put in your locker the day before you left?"

"I was going on my vacation."

Delegates Tell of Bankers' Meet; Credit Men in Session; Surety Company Expands

BY CHAPIN HALL

L. H. Roseberry and W. R. Morehouse, vice-presidents of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, returned yesterday from attendance upon the spring meeting of the officials and committees of the American Bankers' Association, held at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

"On all hands at this meeting," said Mr. Roseberry, "we met with commendations from the bankers who attended the A.B.A. convention in Los Angeles last October of the hospitality they received here, and the expressions of gratification and praise at the continued healthy growth and strong financial condition of Southern California. Without doubt there is, back in the minds of a majority of the bankers who have visited here, the hope that some day they, too, can come here and live. Our spirit of helpfulness, co-operation and supreme confidence in our State are greatly admired and conceded to be without parallel elsewhere in the country."

The meeting was attended by leading bankers from the region east of the Rocky Mountains. The consensus of opinion was that business conditions are rapidly and permanently improving. There has been a healthy reaction in business activities from the administration's foreign policy. While the boll weevil scourge in the South has not wholly abated, the Department of Agriculture is making encouraging headway for relief.

In discussing the important matters discussed was the recommendation of President Thomas B. McAdams that the headquarters of the association be removed from New York City to Washington, D. C. Mr. McAdams urged the move on the ground that the bankers represented in the association are becoming more interested in acts of Congress, rulings of the Federal Reserve Board, the Treasury Department and other government bureaus. He pointed out the great benefits gained by the United States Chamber of Commerce by making such a change. The proposal will be thoroughly discussed at the general meeting of the association in October.

In advocating a continuance of the work of the American Institute of Banking in giving educational courses in banking to students in the high schools, First Vice-President John H. Puelicher said that in his opinion the Los Angeles chapter had been carrying on the most effective and progressive work of any chapter in the country.

A plan suggested by myself for the creation of a bureau of research in the trust section of the A. B. A. to collect from all sources information of value to trust companies met with encouraging approval and I was named as the chairman of a committee to undertake a preliminary survey looking toward the establishment of such a bureau for nationwide service.

CREDIT MEN MEET

Several hundred members of the Los Angeles Credit Men's Association participated in the final meeting of the season held in a downtown cafe last evening. It was "Booster's Night," and every member was expected to bring his chief. During the dinner hour The Times radio service provided entertainment. The regular musical features comprised selections by a popular trio.

The program announced included a talk on "Are We Getting Back to Normalcy?" by Prof. William H. Munroe of Harvard University; "The Third Business Man," by Rupert Hughes; and "Forecasting of Business," by L. M. Maynard, head of the economic research department of the Citizens National Bank.

Mr. Maynard pointed out the interesting fact that business forecasting may properly be said to have had its beginning early in recorded history, citing as an example of the biblical story of Pharaoh's two dreams. In the first of these, the seven well-fed and plump cattle were eaten by seven lean cattle, and in the second seven full-grown ears of corn upon one stalk were displaced by seven poorly-filled ears. Joseph, when called upon to interpret these dreams, forecast from them that the land of the Pharaoh would be visited by seven prosperous years, placed Joseph in charge of the nation's granaries, and the whole world of that day benefited through the seven famine years by the action.

NATIONAL SURETY EXPANDS

The National Surety Company of New York has taken cognizance of the remarkable growth and development of Southern California, and gives expression of its confidence in the future by establishing an executive department with offices in Los Angeles.

The president of the company, William B. Joyce, spends a portion of each year in California, and the other California directors are Lee A. Phillips, E. L. Dooney and Henry E. Huntington. The Southern California board comprises Lee A. Phillips, chairman; Harry M. Haldeman, Andrew Chaffey, Harry Chandler, J. E. Fishburn, Motley H. Flint, William B. Joyce, Jr., V. H. Rossett, J. F. Sargis and A. J. Waters.

The Pacific Coast executive department is headed by George W. Allen, assistant to the president, with headquarters in San Francisco. The Southern California manager is Catey C. Thom. F. W. Harrison is assistant manager and Charles Seyler, Jr., general agent.

It is claimed for the company that through this organization Los Angeles and Southern California will have facilities for the issuance of bonds in any amount up to $1,000,000 or more.

ANGELS FLIGHT

Los Angeles boasts the shortest railroad in the world, and the report just made to the Railroad Commission is one of the most profitable. The operating revenue of the Angels Flight Railway Company, which operates an incline from Hill street to Grand avenue, for 1933 was $25,157.47; operating expenses were $20,545.84, giving a net operating revenue of $4,611.63. The company declared dividends of $1025 during the year, leaving an undistributed profit of $3,586.58.

ALL Clearinghouse Records Smashed; Closer Bond Scrutiny; California "Steps On" the Gas

Los Angeles business transactions, as measured by the volume of checks passing through the local banks, made a new record for all time on Wednesday when the total debits to individual accounts reported to the clearinghouse reached the amazing figure of $34,454,436. This is nearly $10,000,000 over the highest figure previously reported. Officials of the clearinghouse say that this sudden leap forward was due to the tremendous volume of checks handled that day through the trust department of a local bank.

This incident furnishes an excellent example of the wisdom of the clearinghouse authorities in instituting the new system of announcing the debits to individual accounts as well as the interbank clearings ordinarily reported. Since these large trust checks were drawn on and cashed in the same bank, they do not show up in the bank clearings. Nevertheless, they add to the presentation of an accurate reflection of the volume of business done in the city and, as such, should not be lost track of. The bank debit system is aimed to take care of just such contingencies.

CLOSER SCRUTINY

Many bond dealers are now prone to present to emphasize tax-exemption as the cardinal selling point for municipal issues and are in need of a fair consideration of the security offered, said a prominent bond expert yesterday. This situation has tended to bring into the market what might be called the "marginal issue" which in a tighter market would hardly receive any attention. One disconcerting expert does not object to these issues themselves, but to the fact that the rigid asked are not justified by the character of the security offered.

He points out that, "before Federal income taxes came into vogue, bonds of states and municipal subdivisions were bought and held by institutions and individuals of varying financial ability strictly for the excellent security of principal and interest. The fact that they sold then on lower bids than railroad bonds of highest grade indicated their superiority in point of security and, therefore, no element to obscure."

Even now there is a spread in yield ranging from the low of 3.75 to 5 per cent. Some allowance must be made for part of spread to volume of offerings of a particular municipality and local tax-exemption provisions of law.

Some experts think this spread is too small for "the marginal bond" which is better obtained than is warranted by the character of the security. An instance is cited of a small town, almost entirely dependent for its prosperity upon successful operation of one industry. Bonds may have been issued at a time when the industry was in a recent boom and values accordingly high. Taxes were paid from wages from the industry, however, a sudden general business depression affect this industry, or possibly put it out of business, leaving the municipal government practically all no matter how good the

UNION'S SHOWING

Gasoline consumption on the Pacific Coast has increased 20 per cent during the past year, according to the indications shown in the April report of the Union Oil Company. This marketing company, with stations scattered throughout the western territory, has reported sales of approximately 16,000,000 gallons of gasoline and refined products last month, as compared with 11,754,490 gallons in the corresponding month last year. The total sales of refined products for the four months ended April 30 were 50,300,500 gallons, as against 40,500,000 in the same period in 1933.

Reports like this which are coming in daily from the big producing and refining companies explain very clearly the reasons for the recent stock market boom in oil shares. With consumption increasing on such a scale, it is now becoming evident to all that the oil companies are in for a prosperous summer.

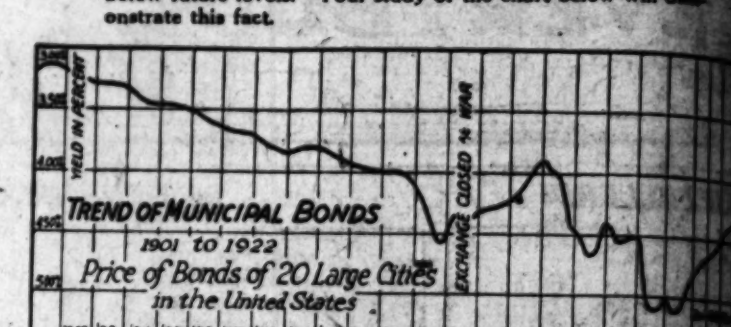

The only dark spot at present in the petroleum marketing business lies in the fuel oil demand which is still below normal and has shown a slight change in recent months. However, as the present business revival gains momentum, the oil companies are expecting an increased consumption of this product.

The big refining and distributing companies throughout the country are now looking forward to a record production of refined products for the year, leaving the municipal government practically all no matter how good the

Municipal Bond Opportunities

Investors who want safety and diversification of income as well as to make tax exempt investments should seize present opportunities to acquire permanent, non-taxable securities at present prices which, despite recent advances, are still much below the average and likely much below future levels. ## Specializing in Safety

FOR forty years S. W. STRAUS & CO. have been specialists in safe investments. This House has never attempted to give its clients speculative profits or unduly high interest rates. But we have always been successful in selecting investments of so high a degree of safety that—

No investor has ever suffered a loss on any security purchased from this House.

Those who seek safety for their invested funds— together with as high an interest rate as is consistent with safety—should investigate the bonds sold by the House which specializes in safety. These bonds are available in $100, $500 and $1,000 amounts. Call at our office or tear off the coupon below and send for our booklet, "Forty Years Without Loss to Any Investor."

MARKET AT LOOSE ENDS

Moves Uncertainly Out of Sequence; New Gain for Sterling; Bonds Lumpy

BY ALEXANDER DANA NOYES
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, May 18.—In today's market, although there was no such uniformity of trend in prices as had occurred on several other days this week, there were several incidents of particular interest, mostly unrelated to one another. The stock market moved with much uncertainty, but selling once more touched the high mark of the upward movement, a rise of half a penny in silver bullion bringing the London price to the highest since the beginning of last December, and the Wall Street price for time loans on stock exchange collateral dipped to 4 per cent (the lowest rate since the middle of 1917) with a few short loans placed at a fraction less.

This reminder of the trend in money rates suggested what is largely the key to the present situation in many markets: the effect of very low money rates and increasing facilities for credit on the spirit of speculation. That is the quite invariable result on occasions of the kind: it was foreseen when the Federal Reserve's percentage of cash to liabilities rose to 15 at the opening of the year and has been perhaps the main reason for the New York reserve bank's willingness to cut its discount rate below the 4 1/2 per cent level fixed on November 1 last. Today's weekly statement of the reserve system showed no increase in the relaxation of aggregate demands on credit.

Outstanding discounts were reduced again $1,944,000 in the whole system and $1,100,000 at New York; outstanding notes circulated were cut down again, and the reserve percentage increased. This continued reduction of demands on the system's credit continues to excite surprise; but it must not be forgotten that even very considerably increased borrowings at bank to conduct reviving trade would be easily counterbalanced through the extensive paying of "frozen credits" by farmers who have sold their grain or cotton at the present remunerative prices. The confused movement in today's stock market was a natural enough result of a situation crowded with highly imaginative "rumors" into which some one has injected a bit of sober truth. Wednesday's Wall Street stillness in the matter of "prospective mergers" prepared the way for abrupt declines today. While stocks of which had been bid up extravagantly the day before on the basis of such rumors, while stocks of that sort were breaking sharply today and the two actual merger "chances" were standing still, edges were made in a scatter-brained way to bid up something else. This gave a superficial appearance of strength to parts of the market. But the day's real trend was reactionary.

The bond market showed a good deal of activity, though ill-distributed. Sterling's advance to 14.45, the high rate previously touched by May 10, was a reminder of the placid indifference of European investors to the collapse of Lloyd George's Genoa experiments, according to the persistence with which the foreign value of the British currency nowadays returns to a higher level than before, after each reaction. When this happens in face of a balance less favorable to England on merchandise trade account and of complete suspension of gold shipments from London to New York, it is safe to say that sentiment is playing a potent part. It could hardly have failed to be affected by the British government's declaration that it proposes to take up its American indebtedness and in due course to restore its paper currency also to par.

BUSY WEEK FOR ROTARY GUESTS

President William Stephens Announces Program

Seven Days of Intensive Activities Planned

Los Angeles Club Prepares for Great Gathering

President William Stephens of the Los Angeles Rotary Club gave out yesterday the program for the week's session of the Thirtieth Annual International Rotary Convention, as follows:

Sunday, June 4: Church services at 11 a.m. followed by a sight-seeing trip.

Monday, June 5: devoted to assembly and registration. The International Board and International Committee meet in the morning, lunch followed by a session at 1 o'clock. In the afternoon there will be a meeting of the committee on proposed legislation and a golf tournament. In the evening there will be visiting of hotels and making and renewing acquaintances. A dinner by the International Board and International Committee will be given at 8 p.m.

Tuesday, June 6: the program of "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow" will be the opening ceremony. The International Board and International Committee meet in the morning, followed by reports from the secretary-general and the treasurer, a message from president Paul F. Harris and the report of the Committee on Constitution and By Laws. The evening will be devoted to the carnival.

PROGRAM OF SPEECHES

Wednesday, June 7: addresses on "Rotary in Classification," "Membership Fundamentals" by Arthur G. Pierce, Chicago, Pa.; "Attendance the Greater of Rotary Activity" by George C. Diehl, Buffalo, N. Y.; "The Rotary of Tomorrow" by Joseph A. Turner, Roanoke, Va., followed by discussion, will take up the morning. In the afternoon "Knowledge of Rotary—The Open Door to Service" by H. Jefferson Lydell, Calgary, Alberta, Canada; "What it is and is not" by Wm. R. Manier, Jr., Nashville, Tenn.; "The Voice of Rotary Around the World" by overseas delegates, and a play, "Knowledge of Rotary" by the Oakland, Cal. Rotary Club, will form the program. The president's ball will be held in the evening.

Thursday, June 8: Rotary and the News" by Hugh E. Van de Walker of Ypsilanti, Mich., will start the morning program, followed by the report of the Committee on Resolutions and "Good Citizenship and My Responsibility as a Rotarian" by Thomas C. Sheehan, Jersey City, N. J. The afternoon session is devoted to "Rotary and Modern Business" by Guy Gundaker, Philadelphia; short talks on the craftsman's relations with those from whom he buys, with his fellow craftsmen, in the market, and with the purchasing public. "How the Application of Rotary Principles Helped to Solve the Problem" by Arthur Chadwick of London, Eng.; five practices in trade organizations; Business the Rotarian's Friend" by Preston R. Arkwright of Atlanta, Ga., and the nomination of officers.

SENTENCES I.W.W. PAIR TO PRISON

Judge Sends Black Handers Who Threatened Pasadena to McNeil Island

Frank Berge and Jack Randow, two members of the local I.W.W., who were convicted of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, were given the limit of the law so far as terms of imprisonment are concerned, by U. S. District Judge Tripp yesterday.

The sentence imposed was two years in the Federal penitentiary on McNeil Island, with a fine of $1000 in each instance.

The men were convicted of sending two threatening black-hand letters to Frederick W. Braun, president of the Braun Corporation, demanding the payment of money, followed by a threat of death if the demand was not complied with. One of the letters demanded $20,000, the second at $25,000.

The accused were convicted largely by the typewritten correspondence of an old typewriter found in the room of Randow, on North Broadway, that had been used in writing the letters. A decoy package made up of bits of newspaper was deposited at the same address by the defendants, and they were seen to carry it away. This was in response to the first letter, and the prisoners were so insulted by the trick that they wrote another letter demanding $10,000, and seeking Mr. Braun for his unethical conduct.

Y.W.C.A. LEADER TO SPEAK

Secretary to Tell of Convention

Miss Charlotte Davis

MISS CHARLOTTE DAVIS, the new general secretary of the Los Angeles Y.W.C.A., is scheduled to be approved today by the City Council.

Councilman Mallard, who is urging immediate action in selecting a building for a City Hall annex on that the raising of the Normal Hill Center Building can be started to make way for the new $1,500,000 Central Public Library, and the opening of Fifth street through Normal Hill, made a survey of the situation yesterday.

He said he felt confident that the long deadlock over the leasing of a building would be broken today, and that Councilman Pearce, whose vote was required to make the necessary total of six votes for leasing the building, would vote for an acceptance of the Bullard Block proposition. This was to lease the building to the city for five years at an annual rental of $15,000 a year.

The city departments now housed at the Normal Hill Center Building would be located in the Bullard Block, and there would still be additional room for several over-crowded departments now at the City Hall.

The Council has ordered the transfer of the title from the Board of Normal Hill to the library directors speeded up, so that the plan to proceed with the selection of an architect, and he may begin work at once on the plans for the new library.

REIDOLUS ALERI

Mr. Keres and his address in the morning. He censured many of the defense witnesses for what he termed untrue statements.

"If twelve intelligent people can be taken in by Mrs. Elderson and a story that she saw Burch in Long Beach on the night of the murder, then we ought to be well set to try to enforce law in this land. That's all I have to say."

He declared that after all other defenses failed, the defense resorted to this much used device. An alibi, he stated, was the easiest thing in the world to manufacture. He then demanded conviction and closed.

He gave his name at the time as Rudolpho Guglielmi.

BRIDE ON WAY EAST

Dispatches from Salt Lake, Utah, reported that the bride of the film star passed through that city last night on her way to New York. She was taken to Chicago, the dispatch stated, although her baggage was checked through to New York. She denied herself to interviewers and was traveling under the name of Winifred Shaughnessy.

It was learned yesterday from intimate friends of the couple in Hollywood that Miss Randolph is not the daughter of Richard Hudson, millionaire New Yorker. When she was quite young, her mother, then a Mrs. Shaughnessy, married Edward (Ted) De Wolfe, brother of Elsie De Wolfe, then a stage favorite.

Later, after some popularity in the Roxy Ballet, at the New York Metropolitan, Winifred left her mother, who later found trace of her in South America, where she had gone with the Koeloffs in a dancing act.

Mrs. Shaughnessy-De Wolfe came West to San Francisco and had some success there as an interior decorator, a profession now followed in New York by Elsie De Wolfe. One year ago she was married to Richard Hudson.

According to friends here, the name Winifred Shaughnessy under which Miss Randolph is traveling, is her correct name.

COUNCIL MAY LEASE BULLARD BLOCK TODAY

LONG DEADLOCK OVER THE PROPOSITION SCHEDULED TO BE BROKEN

The leasing of the Bullard Block on North Main and North Spring streets, adjoining the Temple B'nai B'rith, to be used as a City Hall annex, is scheduled to be approved today by the City Council.

Councilman Mallard, who is urging immediate action in selecting a building for a City Hall annex on that the raising of the Normal Hill Center Building can be started to make way for the new $1,500,000 Central Public Library, and the opening of Fifth street through Normal Hill, made a survey of the situation yesterday.

Chief Inspector of Buildings Backus, who has been ill since February 1, following a severe attack of influenza, is recovering at Balboa Beach, and is expected to return to his duties by June 1. It was announced at the City Hall yesterday that Mr. Backus's absence, Chief Deputy Welch has been in charge of the building department. Mr. Backus's illness was largely brought on by overwork caused by the tremendous amount of business handled during the past year, when all Los Angeles building permit records were broken month after month.

BANK ROBBERY FOILED

A daring attempt to hold up a bank was made at Santa Maria, eighty five miles north of Santa Barbara yesterday afternoon when a stranger, armed with a razor, made a fringe dive through the window of the cashier's window into the lobby, but was intercepted by the cashier.

A furious fight ensued, Palm-tag being reinforced by other bank officials. The bandit finally was overpowered and disarmed, and the loot recovered. The bank-ers held him until Chief of Police Robert Travis arrived, when he was taken to jail.

Closely questioned, the stranger refused to give his name or divulge any information concerning himself, and he remained locked up in the Santa Maria jail, a mystery prisoner. He is described as a heavy-set, roughly dressed man and about 35 years of age.

In the fight with the bandit, the cashier and the robber fell through the cashier's window into the lobby, and though the bandit made desperate efforts to slash the cashier, the latter managed to avoid the keen-bladed razor until others arrived and wrested the weapon from the desperado.

The attempt coming on the heels of the bank robbery at Carpinteria Monday, when a bandit made off with between $1000 and $1500, has resulted in orders in all banks of the city to exercise double vigilance.

AGED MAN'S KEEN MIND FOILS SUIT

Thomas Roche Surprises Court by Wit and Plea for Guardian Fails

"A very bright old man" commented Judge Rives yesterday as he dismissed a petition filed by Kate Roche, daughter-in-law of Thomas Roche, to have a local trust company appointed his guardian on the ground that he was mentally incompetent to handle business affairs.

To the astonishment of the court and attorneys present, Mr. Roche, 83 years of age, demonstrated the fifth problem in Euclid. He remembered the details of his great shipping business in the British Isles. He declared:

"The English are the most honest people I ever dealt with, and I say that as an Irishman."

"What's the decision?" he queried of Attorney Root, who represented him in court.

The court decides you are all right in the paper."

"You bet I am."

Mr. Roche owns real and personal property worth about $20,000.

COUNCIL HALTS UNION SCHEME

Removes from Add Body Mail to Auto Shop Force

Prices at Taxpayers Expense Threatened

Plan Disclosed Police Report

The City Council yesterday halted an attempt of the union labor to have the city repair shop into a body-building plant.

The union, which is the Los Angeles Automobile Body Builders' Union, had proposed that the city repair shop be converted into a body-building plant. The union claimed that the city repair shop was a loss-making enterprise and that the city should save money by converting it into a body-building plant.

The City Council, however, rejected the union's proposal. The council members expressed concern that the conversion would result in higher prices for taxpayers, as the union claimed that the city repair shop was a loss-making enterprise.

Bandit Trial to Face "Tin-Can"

This is the decision of Judge Burnell rendered yesterday in the suit of J. Verne Blanchard against Albert Blanchard, his former wife, whom he sued to have an attachment set aside.

Blanchard and his wife were divorced in 1918. A month later, according to the testimony of the wife, Blanchard went to Santa Barbara and became the wife of Homer Ernest.

At the time of the divorce she was awarded $35 a month alimony, but failed to make a demand upon Blanchard until the end of 1929. Then she filed suit and attached all income in the Santa Fe held belonging to her former husband. He countered with a suit to have the attachment set aside.

YOUTH OF PICKPOCKET

A spotted naphin containing $14.75, which was in a real-estate office, was stolen from Mrs. E. R. A. Blum, 1235 Maguire street, at Fifth street and Broadway, she reported to police late yesterday. The pickpocket out the hands of her purse to obtain the money.

NEW SUSPECT IS JAILED AS RUM RUNNER

Orville, of San Pedro, who was wanted in connection with the Los Angeles rum-running case, which resulted in the arrest of Cohen, Earl Reddick and several others, was placed in County Jail yesterday and will remain there until U. S. Commissioner Long this morning.

Orville furnished his bond of $10,000 and was released. He is the same man who was arrested in connection with the rum-running case. He was arrested in connection with the rum-running case, which resulted in the arrest of Cohen, Earl Reddick and several others.

GRAB GAME ON SEALS' BOBBLES

Locals Win Third Straight Victory in North

Final Score Puts Vernon on Top, 5 to 3

Errors in Eighth Cinch the Doings for Bengals

(BY A. P. MORTIMER) SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—It begins to look as if the Vernon Tigers have the goat of the San Francisco club. All the Tigers have to do is to sit tight and behave and the Seals will beat themselves. It happened again today and Vernon won 5 to 3. That makes three straight. Three beatings in a row for a team touted as the best hitting club in the league does not look right, somehow.

The Seals looked like winners for seven innings, but they fell all over themselves in the eighth and Vernon won. Vernon stalled along for just one opening and when they got it, they won the ball game.

Bob Geary and Doyle both pitched nice ball, but Bob weakened in the eighth and when he was taken out the score was tied, and he left two runners on the sacks. Two wild throws by Walsh and Sees, two of the strongest throwers in captivity, quickly scored those two men with-

FORM LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Walsh let a grounder go between his feet in the first inning to let Chadbourne score the first run of the game. There were two out at the time, but Walsh threw the ball, the side would have been retired without a run.

GOT HIS Geary shut the Tigers out from that time on until the eighth and then he got his. After High had been retired, Geary passed Pink Bodie. As the Seals were leading, 3 to 1 at the time, no particular apprehension was felt about that.

All preparations for the return of the prodigals, Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel, to the line-up of the New York American League team on Saturday have been made except for formal application to Commissioner Landis before game time Saturday.

New York will welcome the two spring sluggers back to the game with a P. Grounds crowd equal to the world's series attendance, all reserved seats for the game having been sold already. The score:

ROBINS CLEAN UP ST. LOUIS

Smith's Boot Enables Dodgers to Clinch Game

Rain Causes Postponement of Seven Contests

Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel Set for Saturday

(BY A. P. MORTIMER) NEW YORK, May 18.—Junior Plutius's playful antics ruined major league baseball today. Seven games, four in the American League and three in the National, were postponed on account of rain.

The only game that was played was between Brooklyn and St. Louis at St. Louis, the Dodgers winning, 7 to 3.

It was the second game the Dodgers won since they started on their western swing around the circuit. T. Griffith hit a line drive to Smith in the fifth, with two men on, after two were out, and Smith dropped it, permitting the Dodgers to score.

All preparations for the return of the prodigals, Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel, to the line-up of the New York American League team on Saturday have been made except for formal application to Commissioner Landis before game time Saturday.

New York will welcome the two spring sluggers back to the game with a P. Grounds crowd equal to the world's series attendance, all reserved seats for the game having been sold already. The score:

The Only Safe Way to Cut Building Costs

Peters Wallboard

Through the use of this superior walling material none of the essential qualities of expensive wall construction are sacrificed. And yet the cost is infinitely lower. Peters Wallboard means a smaller first cost and no further expense for upkeep.

Saves Time, Labor and Material

All interior lathing and plastering is eliminated with Peters Wallboard. Smooth, straight sheets of this fine material—a tough plastic composition compressed between layers of heavy proof paper, water and fire—make just the right kind of wall quickly, easily and economically. The job can be completed without much worry or delay. Walls may be finished in a wide variety of ways.

Fire-Proof Sound-Proof Water-Proof

Will Not Warp, Shrink, Crack or Check.

FLEEING BANKER IS NABBED HERE

Arrested at Pomona as He Calls for Mail

Arkansas Teller Confesses
Crime, Say Police

Woman Companion Held in Texas, Later Freed

Anxiety to receive word from the woman who had been the companion of his flight, caused the arrest of Willard Jarman of Pine Bluff, Ark., at Pomona, and his confession yesterday afternoon that he embezzled $18,000 from the Merchants' and Planters' Bank of the Arkansas city.

Jarman, who is a handsome man of 31 years, arrived in Pomona
Wednesday evening and went directly to the postoffice, where he received mail and telegrams. Following advice of the authorities of Pine Bluff, Pomona police were watching the delivery window and arrested the man just as he was giving hurried directions to the driver of a taxi to drive him away.

IN HIS STORY to the police, Jarman said that he had been chief bookkeeper of the Pine Bluff bank for three years and that during the last two years had been converting funds of the institution to his own use. He said that his affairs were in such a shape that detection was sure to follow and that he took a large sum of money and disappeared April 18.

After leaving Pine Bluff,
where he had a wife and infant baby, he met a woman, whose name he refused to divulge. With her, he traveled from place to place, until they reached Dallas, Tex., last Friday. There detectives closed in on them and Jarman made his escape. His woman companion was taken into custody.

Officers there were unable to place a charge against her, and she was released. By prearrangement, she telegraphed the fugitive at Pomona, and thus was the cause of his apprehension.

HAD BIG SUM
Jarman arrived in Pomona from Salt Lake City over the Union Pacific Railroad, and was carrying a large suit case, which contained an expensive wardrobe, and $1000 in money. He is being held in the City Jail on a telegraphed felony warrant, and will remain in custody until the arrival of an officer from Pine Bluff, who is now on his way to California.

"I fully realize now that I have made a great mistake," said Jarman in the Pomona jail last night,
"and I am anxious to go back home and face the music. I care little for my own feelings, but am oh, so sorry that I am having this great disgrace upon my wife, and my mother and family."

Advice from Jarman's wife that Jarman belongs to one of the oldest and most prominent families there.

Vase-Breaking Episode Leads to Divorce Suit

Dr. J. Hoyt Higgins, physician and surgeon of Long Beach, yesterday filed suit for divorce against Edna Mae Higgins, residing a long list of asserted crimes during the part of the wife, which culminated May 10, last, when she shattered a glass vase over his head and they separated.

Their troubles began ten days after the ceremony, according to the complaint, when she began to sneer and curse him. At the same time she developed a jealous nature, he says, and has ever since refused to deliver to him telephone messages from patients which arrived during his absence. He is represented by Attorney Nowlin N.
Head of Long Beach.

Shoots Herself as Directed; is Asking Divorce

Because she obeyed the admonition of William A. Bogart to shoot herself, Mrs. Ethel P. Bogart wants a divorce.

"You don't love me any more,
so I'm going to shoot myself," she asserts she told him in her complaint filed yesterday.

"Go ahead and shoot!" she says
her husband told her.

"Just then," according to the complaint, "the gun went off" and she was shot in the groin. She remained in the hospital for ten weeks.

OFFICIAL GOES NORTH
Elmer Dover on Way to Customs
Parley in San Francisco

Elmer Dover, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, who is at the Alexandria, delayed his departure until last night, because of the many invitations he received from Los Angeles friends. He was last guest at dinner Wednesday night on Marco H. Hellman's houseboat at the harbor. There were fifty guests. He also has visited the Pickford-Palmer studios, and yesterday was present when Collector of Customs Schwabe was sworn in at the Federal Building.

Mr. Dover is on his way to San Francisco to attend a meeting of Pacific Coast customs officials and special agents. He has held similar gatherings at New York, New Orleans and on his way to Washington, will hold the fourth at Chicago.

DIRECTORS ELECTED
At a meeting of the board of directors of the Co-operative Glass Company yesterday, Orr E.
Monette, president of the Citizens'
Trust and Savings Bank, vice-president of the Citizens National Bank, and B. P. Glenn, member of the firm of Brewster-Glenn Co., vice-president of the Lincoln Heights Board of Trade, and also a director of the California Bank, were elected as additional directors.

McCONNELL NAMES AIDES
William D. McConnell, newly appointed City Prosecutor, yesterday appointed Albert E. Lucas, Edward J. Rodden and Ed. William Price as deputies to his vacancies.

KIDDIES CRY FOR MISSING MOTHER

Mrs. Lillian May Henne

"SHE left three fine young sters who are continuously asking when their mother is coming back from the hospital. They are praying for her to get well soon, and I must keep telling them that some day she will come back."

In these words Ernest L. Henne tells of the vacant chair in his home at 29 Elm street, Elizabeth, N. J. It's been vacant ever since that day just before Christmas, 1921, when his wife, Mrs. Lillian May Henne, disappeared. The father of her three children believes she has come to California, where he thinks she may be working in the movies.

He wants her to return, he says in a letter received by The Times yesterday.

IMPORTANT DECISION IS PRESENTED

County Officials Are Interested in Ruling by High Court

Although the amount involved was small, Department No. 2, District Court of Appeal, yesterday handed down an opinion of value to county officials of a certain grade and classification as to their authority to incur indebtedness in carrying on the affairs of their office.

The suit was brought by W. A.
Friedman against W. J. Hirt, and tor of Tulare county. For a writ to issue he sought that official to issue his warrant for $15 for services of assisting County Treasurer Harry Newman. Under the law the county treasurer was limited to a salary of $2400 a year, and allowed to hire a single deputy at a salary of $1800 a year.

During the course of business, warrant to the amount of $15,000
had accumulated, not being paid on account of the lack of funds. Later on money came to the county treasury, and the plaintiff was hired by the treasurer to compute the interest on the various warrants. He worked twenty-two days at the rate of $7 a day. The bill was ordered paid by the board of supervisors, but the county auditor refused to issue his warrant for the extra service.

The court allowed the writ compelling Auditor Hirt to issue the warrant as prayed for, holding that the amount paid by the law was not affected by the payment of the money; that the plaintiff was an employee and not an officer, and that his compensation did not increase that of the County Treasurer, and that to do so was not in conflict with the organic law of the State relative to the increase in the amount of hire that may be incurred in courses of the class of Tulare.

Insulted Her as Cook, Wife Avers in Suit

No wife likes to be told by her husband that she does not cook
"like mother did." When Sam Friedman said this to his wife, Anna Friedman, she felt insulted. She felt to be insulted when he objected to the way she cooked chops and probably became angry when he threw them away. His score at her, she says, slapped her and pushed her out of the family automobile.

In Judge Hahn's court yesterday Mrs. Friedman told her story of marital unhappiness in divorce proceedings. Mr. Friedman is defending his good name as a peaceful, loving husband. The case will be resumed today. Harry Lyons is defending Mr. Friedman. Hugh Bois is counsel for Mrs. Friedman.

WOMAN KILLS SELF

Friendless and Despondent, She Inhalates Gas

Without funds or means of earning a livelihood Mrs. Ada Newman, 223 East Fifth street, yesterday yielded to deep despondency and committed suicide by gas asphyxiation.

Her body was discovered by Mrs. Eva Earl, the landlady, who notified the police. Mrs. Newman-Hall is asserted to have been separated from her husband. The body was removed to the George A.
Fitch mortuary.

IT IS WITH SADNESS WE

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

I, I, I: MYSELF; I

THE HISTORY OF ME BY ME

CHAPTER IX

A House Divided Against Itself

I feared it. I saw evidence of it quite early. You remember I told you that I was afraid that my Aunt Sue, who worships me properly, but who does not seem to have quite the deference for my opinion that she should, and my precious mother were going to take sides against my Grammie and me, and it has happened.

It is on this question of my meal hours. I do get so hungry before the three-hour period is up! And, of course, I tell a little white lie to make a man do to make known his wants, when he is only three weeks old? Later, I expect to have some different mode of expression, and, I hope it will be more effective than this particular matter is concerned.

My little Grammie, you know, is the one I told you of—the woman I love most on all the earth except my mother, for we are true affinites, thinking alike in all things. Now when I cry, my Grammie says that mamma should give me my nutriment. That she does not believe in making a little boy like me go so long. That when her children were babies she used to feed them every two hours at least, and often more. They all have to count their calories, they are so big.

And I cry real strong-like, and I can see that I am beginning to influence my mother, who is really very sympathetic and tender-hearted, just like Grammie, when Aunt Sue, she speaks right up and says we must do just as the doctor has advised, she knows best, she has had a thousand or so babies more than you have, mother.

And that settles it. Mamma goes out of the room hurriedly and Grammie looks at me wistfully, and I look at her wistfully, and that's all we can do. And Aunt Sue, she looks at both of us and begins to laugh! And she says:

John and Miss Decatur Page drop in for tea.

Tomorrow Mrs. Edwin S. Rowley is giving a luncheon and theater party in honor of Mrs. Helms.

Enjoying Life Abroad

Friends of Mrs. Clara Carpenter have been glad to know she is very popular abroad and is constantly entertained by leaders of Parisian society. One day not long ago she was at a luncheon given by the Duchess de Tallrand. Mrs. Carpenter has been abroad about two years this time, and has spent part of the time in Nice and at Monte Carlo.

Miss Katherine Taylor Howard, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Grant Howard, arrived home Tuesday from a trip to Europe. Miss Howard is looking forward with great pleasure to a summer spent in and around Los Angeles, as it will be the first in eight years, all others having been spent on motor trips with her parents.

THE LAST WORD.

BY ALMA WHITAKER

Lady Nancy Astor, as reported by the American newspapers, is a much more delightful person than the one reported by the English papers. You see they have to be careful about flattery her over there. Englishmen are still trying to keep women in their place. One of the most attractive things about Nancy is her discretion. She is so brilliantly, gaily, cautiously indiscreet. Say it with a twinkle and an "I know I should not be saying this" sort of an air, and criticism is promptly dismissed.

Then again she can be so severely refined. That in itself is an art. Some of us can never rise above vulgar refinement, cheap high-brow stuff. But Nancy is a woman of her own. And that is charm.

Alfred Robertson, our own Congressman, has some caustic remarks to make about the doped-up lady in the back seat of the automobile who, she thinks, should either keep her mouth shut or get out and help what repairs are needed.

Perfectly good logic, Alice, which works both ways. The gentleman who criticizes the household arrangements and the cooking, for instance, perchance he, too, should either keep his mouth shut or pitch in and help.

Still, it is nice of Alice to stand up for the men. They need it.

And now we hear that Evelyn Nesbit, "The Girl in the Red Velvet Dress," is trying to get on the brink of matrimony. All the same Peggy Hopkins Joyce, this Alice of lady can always have her pick.

It is quite reasonable in the light of old and revised tradition. Don't you remember how, in the old novels of Jane Austen's day, the simple heroine so often had a penchant for "experienced" masculinity—the kind that preceded his formal proposal with a halting "confession" of a black past, which she generously forgave. "A reformed rake makes the best husband" was a popular maxim in those days.

Voilà! Now that the position of the sexes is becoming somewhat reversed, the kind that preceded his formal proposal with a halting "confession" of a black past, which she generously forgave. "A reformed rake makes the best husband" was a popular maxim in those days.

"Mere Man" Stuff No Joke, Says Alma Whitaker of "Times"; Pinnacle Blasted, Tumble Complete

Blasting mere man from his aged, self-assured pinnacle, and shouting at his creak of patronizing tolerance with a delightful admixture of humor, fact and fable, Alma Whitaker of The Times yesterday radiated her verbal high explosives from KJL in an address on the "Fading of the Preposterous," and all that went into the air in a semimimic barrage, which followed.

"This mere-man stuff used to be a joke. No man felt quite so de-lightfully superior as when in the company of a few fluffy bits of femininity gazing at him in arch admiration, he jocularly described himself as a mere man."

SUPERIOR SEX?

"He felt so devilishly the superior sex. Of course, he affected a proper respect for certain individual females, particularly his mamma, who must have been a bit above the average to produce anything as superb as himself, but on the whole his attitude toward women as a sex was condescendingly patronizing, humorously tolerant, amusedly interested, when he wasn't frankly bored. Even when he indulged himself with a grand passion, fanned himself sumptuously in love, the object honored with his affections was but the spark, the touchstone, the stimulus of his own egotistic emotional complex. He never really considered her his queen, his angel, his guiding star, a triumphant superior entity actually of more account than himself. That was just his jolly little way of accounting for his strange emotions.

"But things have undergone a queer disturbing change. That 'mere' adjective is losing its rich flavor. If he uses it at all now, he says it with a sort of timid defiance. As a matter of fact, he is now distinctly labored. His cognizance of this disquieting change is still in the realms of his suppressed subconscious mind. But conscience doth make cowards of us all.

"And then, to cap her affront, behold her in mighty club federations discussing his morals, his deportment, his institutions, any and everyone of his sacred prerogatives, passing resolutions of im-pudent criticism of his govern-ment, his administration, his na-tional and international states-man-ship—and expecting to be taken seriously—yes, hang it all!

Actually being taken almost as seriously as she takes herself.

"Perhaps it was a psychological macabre necessity, that war, 'So afterwar, when he wanted to rest on his laurels, when he wanted to let down, when he wanted a gay and irresponsible re-creation, when he wanted the restora-tion of his superiority without the further effort of maintaining it, she went right on.

"THEY LET DOWN

"He was tired. He let down. It wasn't quite decent to seem to op-pose her, so he gave her half-hearted encouragement. But for the most part he let her do it. He is still letting her do it. Even those few of his own sex who have not let down, who appreciate that the hour has sounded for mighty and vital changes—even they may be led to the women for their support, rush to the women with their caresses, depend on the women—those same women who with a little while ago didn't count. Those self-same women who such a little while ago were in voice, no voice, no influ-ence, no opinions that anyone was ex-pected to notice.

"And that is why the 'mere man' joke is losing its flavor. It reeks too much of grim fact. She is usurping his prerogatives in grim earnest now. She who was so far behind in going, sailing, gaining. She is almost up with him today. Tomorrow she will be level. Next week she will have passed ahead.

"Good-bye, mere man. The fu-ture belongs to mere woman. Un-less you can prove—ah, wondrously happy thought—that the race is not always to the swift."

"Songs My Mother Taught Me" by Dvorak-Powell.

Mrs. Gloria Mayne, soprano, fol-lowed Mr. Grover with the song, "All for You," by Martin, with a violin obligato by Mr. Grover and Mrs. Bush at the piano. Mrs. Mayne's encore was the aria, "Au-bade," by Schlegel.

The music waves then lifted from the radio studio a suite for violin and piano by Edward Schurt, entitled "Allegro Risoluto." Their effective work was a source of joy to the appreciative listening in.

Mrs. Mayne also sang "Ave Ma-ria," by Bach-Gounod, and Mr. Grover rendered "Capriccio," his composition.

Grace Grubb, coloratura soprano, a protégé of Ellen Beach Yaw, de-lighted her "great theater" with "Shadow Dance" from Dvorak, by Meyerbeer; "California," by Mrs. Yaw, and "Winds in the South," by Scott. Her excellent work was enhanced by the fine pi-anist accompaniment by Georgeella Lay.

Evelyn Lane, soprano, animated the waves in beautiful harmony with four numbers. Mrs. Lane was accompanied by Martha Loh-man at the piano. In co-ordina-tion with her accompanist, Miss Lane sang "The Song of the Fair Land" from "Mignon," by A. Thomas; "Love's Farewell," by herself; "Eden," by Mameau; "Annie Laurie," arrangement by Ida Lehmann.

Guests were extended to the banquet of the Chamber of Com-merce of South Pasadena and to its new president, Joseph A. Moore, and Secretary C. H. Bur-les.

The Times radiophones broadcast an elaborate musical program via electro-magnetic waves yesterday. Prominent artists lent their talent to the air. Reports on the concert-audibility and quality of the offering were gratifying to the artists and The Times. Among the features was the work of Mrs. Gloria Mayne, soprano, and the Duo Classique, soprano, accompanied by Martha Lohman, and Grace Grubb, coloratura soprano, with Georgeella Lay at the piano, appeared in the program from 1 to 1:45 p.m.

Alma Whitaker of The Times radiated a message on the "Masculine Fade-Out."

Charles F. Stern, vice-president of the First National Bank and the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank, delivered an address on "Economic Equity."

Presenting the initial number of the Duo Classique, Frederick Grover played "Fair Rosamund," a violin solo, by Fritz Kreisler. Mrs. Guy Bush at the piano. Mr. Grover's beautiful rendition was played on his old genuine Francesco Gobbetti violin. Gobbetti was a pupil of Stradivari in the seventeenth century. Mr. Grover's score was

LESSON 46
By G. C. Farmer

A few useful "Don'ts" in radio may be of interest.

Don't connect your set direct to the electric light circuit. If you want to employ the light current as an aerial use a one mile farad in series to prevent a short circuit to the ground, and possible fire.

Don't erect an antenna over the telephone or high-power lines. The antenna may accidentally drop on the bare wires and electrocute some one, as well as cause a serious short circuit. Don't try putting out fires, or try to quench the sparks caused by crossed wires, by throwing water on them. Don't attach ends of antenna to power or telephone poles. It is dangerous.

Don't run the antenna parallel to the light and telephone lines. Hang it at right angles to the wires and higher than them if possible. Don't fail to insulate the antenna. Don't attach antenna to live wires with out the wires being insulated at least fifteen feet from the nearest branches. Don't forget the wind will cause the tree to sway with enough force to snap the wires.

Don't forget to make the lead-in from the antenna as short as possible without interfering with the height of the antenna itself. Also, the ground lead should be as short as possible. The lead-in, as well as the antenna can be of insulated wire without detracting from the intensity of the received signals. To get maximum results they should be of rather large wire. No. 14 is suitable. Don't run the leads parallel to the lighting, supply wires or the telephone line. A fifty or sixty cycle hum, or dialing from the telephone may be heard, causing interference.

Don't use coal instead of galena crystal. It won't work. If the galena crystal loses its sensitiveness, don't forget that by breaking the crystal and obtaining a new surface its sensitiveness will be renewed. Don't see a galena crystal to the cup. Heat will cause the crystal to lose its sensitiveness. The crystal should rest on a non-conductor. Two inches of steel E string is about the proper length. The spring should rest on a non-conductor. If the spring is longer than two inches, external vibration or jar-ring will cause the spring to change position and jump off the sensitive spot. Don't use cut-gut violin string for cat-whisker. It won't work.

If at first with a new receiving set you can't hear anything don't slam headphones on the floor in disgust. Your set should work, but it takes a delicate touch and a trained hand to get the best results. Don't condemn the set. Very often the fault is in some connection or in yourself.

Don't fail to test more than one piece of galena crystal. Galena varies in sensitiveness. Test several pieces. Don't count on a crystal detector set to cover more than twenty miles. With a large antenna and proper adjustments it may work much farther, but ordinarily it is good for short distances only. Crystal sets are suitable for beginners, and serve as a stepping stone to something better.

CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL RADIATES PROGRAM

The Children's Hospital broadcast an interesting program yesterday morning from Bullock's radio station—KJL—to further its drive for funds. Features were rendered by Mrs. Kate Page Crutchen, president of the Children's Hospital, and Mrs. Budd Frankendorf, in charge of the salvage department; Miss Lily Opham, in charge of the music training work; Ed Shank of the Ellis Club; Mrs. Michael J. Connell; Miss Helen Jepson, Miss Florence Jepson, Miss Edith Wikke, reading.

ADDRESS TELEPHONED AND SENT BY RADIO

R. H. Ballard, former president of the National Electric Light Association and vice-president and general manager of the Southern California Edison Company, delivered a message last night to the annual convention of the association in Atlantic City by long distance telephone from San Francisco.

By tapping into the long distance lines in Los Angeles the entire speech was caught and broadcast from KJL to the listeners of the Pacific Slope.

The unique transmission is said to be without precedent.

A picturization of "Yellow Men and Gold," by Gouverneur Morris, will be shown at the California Theatre starting Sunday—Advertisement.

PYORRHEA

$2 CURED PER TUBE

Pyorrhea is a disease of the gums which causes the teeth to become loose and fall out. It is a very common disease and can be cured by the use of Pyorrhea tubes.

Pyorrhea tubes are small tubes which are inserted into the spaces between the teeth and the gums. They draw out the pus and inflammation and allow the gums to heal.

Pyorrhea tubes are made of a special material which is non-toxic and does not irritate the gums.

Pyorrhea tubes are sold in packages of ten for $2.00.
